

ONTARIO FEDERATION OF LABOUR SOLIDARITY & PRIDE CHAMPION AWARD

This annual award is to acknowledge and celebrate individuals or groups who have made a significant or ongoing contribution to the advancement of the lesbian, gay, bisexual, trans, intersex and two-spirit (LGBTQI*) human rights, equity and inclusion, who are leaders in advancing equality and quality of life for LGBTQI* people in workplaces, community and globally.

Recipient Criteria

The nominee must be an individual or group who has not previously received this award and who:

- Live or work within the region of Ontario and identify as a member of the LGBTQI* community or represent members of the LGBTQI* community.
- Takes a proactive role in raising awareness and championing LGBTQI* issues.
- Is committed to furthering diversity and inclusion in the workplace and promoting social justice for LGBTQI* people in the broader community.
- Is a leader in advancing equality and understanding for LGBTQI* people and advocates in the human rights and labour movements to advance the rights and freedoms of the LGBTQI* community.
- Is passionate about breaking down barriers for LGBTQI* people everywhere.
- Has promoted LGBTQI* rights and equality within the labour movement, community, and/or legislative reform.

Actions/activities that could be considered criteria for the Award are achievements, efforts, mobilization, organizing campaigns, notable leadership and years of service.

Nomination Process

Please send the name and affiliation of the individual or group nominated to OFL Human Rights Director Carrol Anne Sceviour via email csceviour@ofl.ca. Please describe the nominee’s achievements, efforts or leadership and how their LGBTQI* activism has positively impacted the labour movement and/or their community allies.
