The Time for Real Climate Action is NOW!

From record setting heat waves, floods, wildfires, droughts, and growing food insecurity and famine, to the fossil-fuel driven economic crisis, it's clear that the window for urgent action to limit global warming to the United Nations target of 1.5°C is closing fast!

We all have a direct stake in building the movement for Climate Justice. This means:

- Organizing with our allies for rapid decarbonization focused on #PeopleNotProfit.
- Working to ensure that working people and those most affected by the climate crisis have a real voice and a central role in planning and building a safer, greener, more just future for us all.
- Demanding a Just Transition, in which ALL WORKERS have access to good, green, unionized jobs, and the quality public services we all need to build fair, sustainable and inclusive communities.

Together working people and our unions have a key role to play in building this movement.

- Contact your union and/or other groups about endorsing, promoting and participating in the Sept. 23 Toronto Climate Strike.

- Help broaden the discussion in our unions and other groups about ways to organize for Climate Justice and a Just Transition... and link it to our work for economic justice for workers and our communities.
